Headline:
Wet this morning, but turning brighter. Feeling very mild.

Today:
A wet start this morning, but the rain quickly clearing, allowing some brighter skies to develop. It will however stay rather cloudy around the coasts with drizzle and fog over the hills. Rather windy but very mild in any brightness. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
This evening will start dry with some clear spells in the east, but further rain will move in from the southwest, giving a damp night for most. Remaining breezy. Mild. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Thursday:
Thursday will be a rather cloudy and damp day with the most persistent rain across the moors. Remaining breezy but also mild. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Largely dry and very mild on New Year's Eve. Spells of rain then return on New Year's Day and Sunday, with winds increasing, although remaining mild for early January.
